2. Admission criteria

A. Applicants with higher education study

Applicants who have already completed part of an undergraduate course at another institution may be considered for entry into an ICMS undergraduate degree. Academic records (including Year 12 results and results from any higher education study) will be used as the basis for selection.

Credit for previous study

Credit for recently completed tertiary studies may be granted if the studies that have successfully been completed are at a similar level and are equivalent in content. Applications for advanced standing (credit or recognition of prior learning) may be accepted once an offer of enrolment has been made. Refer to the Academic Credit Policy for more information.

Bridging courses

ICMS may also recognise bridging courses such as tertiary preparation programs offered by universities and other institutions for entry into an undergraduate pathway.

B. Applicants with vocational education and training (VET) study

Applicants who have already completed part of a VET course at another institution such as a public TAFE or a recognised VET provider may be considered for entry into an ICMS undergraduate degree. Academic records (including Year 12 results and results from any previous VET study) may be used as the basis for proficiency.

Credit for previous study

Credit for recently completed tertiary studies may be granted if the studies that have successfully been completed are at a similar level and are equivalent in content. Applications for advanced standing (credit or recognition of prior learning) may be accepted once an offer of enrolment has been made. Refer to the Academic Credit Policy for more information.

Bridging courses

ICMS may also recognise bridging courses such as tertiary preparation programs offered by universities and other institutions for entry into an undergraduate pathway. Certificate level IV qualifications under the AQF, or its equivalent are also considered.

Data accurate at time of publication (September 2017)

C. Applicants with recent secondary education (within the past two years)

Australian Year 12 students

ICMS use a Non-ATAR based assessment system.

Domestic applicants are required to achieve a minimum band 2 in English for Diploma and Bachelor entry.

Additionally, Bachelor applicants must achieve performance band 2s in Mathematics or a Business related subjects.

The TACs can still be used for purposes of entry.

ATAR-related adjustments

ICMS make no ATAR-related adjustments.

Criteria that may apply in addition to ATAR

ICMS has may conduct interviews that are considered optional for students to participate in.

Other admission options

ICMS admissions support participation of applicants that may have disability, illness or family disruption and are sensitive to these circumstances. To that end ICMS welcome applications from those with challenging circumstances that are supported by documents evidencing work experience, training documents and resumes along with any regular academic documents.

These applications will be assessed by the Deputy Vice chancellor on a case-by-case basis.

At school offer schemes available include:

Leadership Entry Program

Elite Athlete/Performers

School Recommendation Scheme \(SRS\)

Interstate year 12

Applicants who have completed year 12 interstate may also be accepted for admission into an ICMS course should the applicant achieve results equivalent to ICMS admissions criteria for New South Wales applicants.

Data accurate at time of publication (September 2017)

D. Applicants with work and life experience

Finished secondary education more than two years ago

ICMS accepts all applicants who have met the prerequisites despite the completion year.

According to our policy applicants, who are over 18 years of age, may be eligible for admission based on work experience. However, it is not recommended that applicants just rely on work experience; they should consider supplementing it with the STAT.

The STAT (Special Tertiary Admission Test) is used by many institutions to help make informed decisions about offering places in their courses. The STAT is usually undertaken by mature age applicants and/or those without an ATAR. ICMS accepts results from the STAT multiple choice tests and the required score for entry is 140.

Applicants will need to present evidence that you possess at least 12 months of full time paid work experience. This evidence must be well documented and include statements of service of signed reference on company letterhead. If an applicant has been self-employed, they should supply a statement from their accountant, solicitor or tax agent.

Bridging and enabling course entry

Non-award students who successfully complete at least four (4) non-award undergraduate subjects undertaken at a recognised tertiary institution may be considered in certain circumstances for undergraduate pathways.

3. Additional information

Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people

ICMS admissions support participation by Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander (ATSI) people and are sensitive to ATSI knowledge and culture. To that end ICMS welcome ATSI applications that are supported by documents evidencing work experience, training documents and resumes along with any regular academic documents. These applications will be assessed by the Deputy Vice chancellor on a case-by-case basis.

Domestic applicants with overseas qualifications

Applicants who have overseas qualifications will have them assessed for equivalency using an assessment tool such as the Australian Government's Country Education Profiles. Additional information can be viewed here.
